ABSTRACT

This book explores the art heritage of Sub-Saharan Africa with projects (n=40) and activities (n=15) featuring African animals. Artifacts from museums and private collections have inspired the activity choices in the book, and an effort has been made to present fresh and new ideas, not always found in most activity books on diversity. As with all "Hands-on" books, genuine objects have been adapted to inexpensive materials. The descriptive drawings encourage successful creation of the projects. Before presenting the activities, the book provides an introduction to African art and to West Africa as well as featured sites on an African map (n=20). (BT)
